Wednesday afternoon while Division Engineer Valentine and Yardmaster Ritchie were going east on the speeder they came across the body of a man lying alongside the track near Ruby, south of Wells. The man was still alive, but unconscious, and appeared to be badly injured, although not cut up in any way. He was taken to Wells, and brought to Elko last night and placed in the hospital, but died this morning without regaining consciousness. From papers and a union card found in his pockets, his name was A. J. Harold, a member of the San Francisco paperhangers' union, in good standing.

ROOSEVELT FOR RECIPROCITY PACT

Three Times Indorsed Canadian Agreement in Public Speeches.

SQUARE DEAL DUE TAFT.

No Choice as Between Candidates For Presidency on This Issue—Roosevelt
Also Declared Payne Tariff Law Best
Yet Passed by Congress.

Theodore Roosevelt is on record three times in public speeches as indorsing the Canadian reciprocity policy of President Taft. This issue is now dead through the failure of Canada to ratify the trade agreement on the ground that the United States would derive the greatest benefit from its provisions. The fact remains, however, that the farmers of the country are not generally aware that Mr. Roosevelt so thoroughly approved of Canadian reciprocity when it was a live issue. Canadian reciprocity was voted for by Republicans and Democrats alike when it was before Congress, and as between Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Taft in the present campaign for the Republican nomination for president there is no choice on this issue.

In connection with his public utterances on the tariff Mr. Roosevelt has also joined President Taft in saying that the Payne tariff law, while by no means perfect, is nevertheless "the best tariff law yet passed by congress" under the old system of making such laws. Of course President Taft and Mr. Roosevelt are both now committed to the tariff commission plan of revising the tariff, and Mr. Roosevelt has given President Taft credit for advocating this commission plan from the beginning.

"Uphold the Hands of Taft."
Mr. Roosevelt's indorsements of Canadian reciprocity were as follows:

In a speech at Grand Rapids, Mich., Feb. 11, 1911, he said:

"Here, friends in Michigan, right on the northern frontier, I have the peculiar right to say a word of congratulation to you and to all of us upon the likelihood that we shall soon have closer reciprocal tariff and trade relations with the great nation to the north of us. [Applause.] And I feel so pleased primarily because I wish to see the two peoples, the Canadian and the American peoples, drawn together by the closest ties on a footing of complete equality of interest and mutual respect. [Applause.] I feel that it should be one of the cardinal policies of this republic to establish the very closest relations of good will and friendship with the Dominion of Canada." [Applause.]

In a speech before the Republican club of New York city, delivered at the Lincoln day dinner at the Waldorf hotel on Feb. 13, 1911, he said:

"I want to say how glad I am at the way in which the members of the club here tonight responded to the two appeals made to them to uphold the hands of President Taft, both in his effort to secure reciprocity with Canada and in his effort to secure the ratification of the Panama canal."

"And in addition to what has been said about reciprocity with Canada I would like to make this point: It should always be a cardinal point in our foreign policy to establish the closest and most friendly relations of equal respect and advantage with our great neighbor on the north. And I hail the reciprocity arrangement because it represents an effort to bring about a closer, a more intimate, a more friendly relationship of mutual advantage on equal terms between Canada and the United States."

Gives President Credit.

At Sioux City, Ia., on Sept. 3, 1910, Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I was particularly pleased with what the president (Taft) said in his letter on the subject of the tariff commission. A number of senators and congressmen have for some years advocated this as the proper method of dealing with the tariff, and I am glad that the country now seems awakened to the idea that a tariff commission offers the only solution of the problem which is both rational and insures the absence of jobbery. The president (Taft) from the beginning advocated this commission. . . ."

"There is another feature of the tariff law, and it points our course in the right direction, the maximum and minimum provision, and here again I wish to point out that the value of the provision has depended largely upon the excellent work done by the administration in the negotiations with the Dominion of Canada, which were the most difficult of all, and yet in my eyes the most important because I esteem it of vital consequence that we should always be on relations of the highest friendship and good will with our great and growing neighbor in the north."

At Sioux Falls, S. D., on the same day Mr. Roosevelt said:

"I think that the present tariff (Payne law) is better than the last (Dingley law) and considerably better than the one before the last (McKinley law), but it has certainly failed to give general satisfaction."

From these quotations from Mr. Roosevelt's speeches it is therefore apparent that there can be no choice as between President Taft and Mr. Roosevelt on these issues.

Con. Virginia and Ophir
Start Joint Work Enlarging Old Ross Winze

The Con. Virginia company had nearly completed the building of chutes yesterday at the raise in the ore chimney on the 2400-foot level, and this work will no doubt be out of the way sometime today. These chutes will greatly facilitate the carrying up of the raise as the material taken out will be handled much more expeditiously and easily. The raise will be pushed on up to a point of connection with the 2300-foot level as rapidly as possible, for when the connection is made it will greatly relieve the adverse ventilation conditions existing at the present time. It is probable that when better air is secured, more or less exploration work will be done in the vein on an intermediate level, which is now impracticable. Other work contemplated later on is the opening up of the 2400-foot level from the shaft side, where there is no station at the present time. It will then be possible to drive north on the vein which was followed southwest and discontinued on account of the flow of hot water secured in the face of the drift. This work cannot be started until the new pumps are installed on the 2500-foot station, and the pump column now utilized for hydraulics moved or changed. On the 2300-foot level, the east crosscut from the northeast drift is being advanced through porphyry. The west crosscut from the south drift from the shaft has been cleared up through the first cave and about 30 feet further west another cave has been found, which has closed the drift as tight as at the first cave. The blower will soon be working, and better ventilation secured for this drift.

The Ophir company is continuing the sloping of ore above the 2100-foot level in the winze, a raise is being carried up on the north side following a streak of ore, that has thus far given better results than that reported on a Saturday of last week. The west crosscut from the main south drift on the 2100-foot level is being extended in vein porphyry with no change of consequence showing in the formation. The Ophir and Con. Virginia have started important joint work this week, which includes the enlarging of what is known as the old Ross Winze that was sunk years ago 100 feet below the connecting drift with the North Lateral, Suro tunnel. This winze is used as an upcast in the ventilation of the deep levels of both mines, and it will be made considerably larger to admit of the free passage of a much larger volume of air, which should prove of benefit to the lower level ventilation. It is one of the first steps to be taken towards improving the ventilation at the north-end.

The Mexican mill is running steadily this month, and the usual tonnage of about 80 tons per day is being put through the batteries, and the heads are averaging about as usual. Efforts are still being directed at toning up all departments of the big plant to insure a steady and uniform operation. As this is accomplished, the tonnage will gradually increase until the maximum of 100 tons per day is reached. The surface dumps are still supplying the mill, and sampling the stopes continues in the mine.

The Union Con. continues work on the 2500-foot level and repairs and retimbering are now practically finished on the Mexican side of the property. A thorough job has been done in the timbering, and it is doubtful if another rise in the water could do as much damage as the last. The northwest crosscut has been cleaned out and timbered, and work will be resumed in the face. The west crosscut from the 2500-foot level of the joint winze has been continued, and also cutting out for the pump station on the 2250 of the winze.

At the C. & C. shaft, several weeks' work is ahead connecting up and equipping the new pumps on the 2310 station, but this work can now proceed rapidly and without serious interruption. Work of making changes on the Reiders will begin as soon as the 2500 levels are in condition to permit of shutting down the elevators for a short time every day, or at the intervals desired to make the repairs to the Reiders. A "hoodoo" seems to hover over the pumps at the Ophir 2200 level winze, and further changes will be necessary before the 2500 level of the Ophir can be cleared of water. One of the pumps is an old one and has had to be entirely overhauled and refitted. At the Ward shaft, snow shedding the 2450 north drift is underway, and the drift widened out in places to permit a safe passage away from the hot water. Driving south on the 2000 continues in loose ground, the old drift being caved in tight. Cleaning up the 1800 winze station of the Julia is underway, and when completed, the shift will work to the east cleaning out the old workings.

The Combination shaft has been bratticed in the center compartment for a distance of about 350 feet, and rapid headway will be made from now on. No new developments are reported from the Gold Hill mines.

K. OF P. DRILL FOR THE BLEDSOE PRIZE

One hundred and fifty members of the Knights of Pythias of this city, Redlands, Colton, Highland and Riverside last night participated in the big gathering at which Valley Lodge, No. 27, of this city, drilled for the silver trophy offered by B. F. Bledsoe, grand chancellor, for the best team work of the district.

The Knight rank was conferred by the local team, and the work was declared by the visitors to be of such a standard that the other lodges must hustle to win the cup. Four judges, one selected from each of the other lodges watched the drill.—San Bernardino Sun.
